

GREECE BREAKS RELATIONS WITH CENTRAL POWERS

VENIZELOS' INFLUENCE WITH NEW GOVERNMENT IS MANIFESTED.

MORE GERMAN PEACE RUMORS

Bethmann-Hollweg May Discuss the Terms With Reichstag Next Week.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) Athens, June 29—The Greek government has broken diplomatic relations with Germany, Austria Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) "The entente powers will fight on until they have reached the end they will set out to attain when they accepted Germany's debt to civilization," declared Premier Lloyd George in a speech at Glasgow today.

GERMAN CHANCELLOR MAY DISCUSS PEACE TERMS

Reports that at next week's meeting of the German reichstag Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg will discuss peace are current, and are given support by reports of mysterious political meetings in Germany recently.

In the field of military operations the important activities are against the German line about the coal city of Lens, where operations seem to have reached a broader scope. To the south of the city last night the British captured a German position.

On the French front at Verdun the Germans have manifested their greatest activities. Last night they took several French positions but were repulsed this morning.

Transatlantic Line Of Airplanes To Carry Passengers New York To London

(Associated Press) London, June 6 (Correspondence)—A transatlantic line of airplanes to carry passengers between New York and London in two days, at a total cost of about $1 a mile was predicted by G. Holt Thomas in an address he delivered before the Aeronautical Society of Great Britain.

To complete the rosy forecast pro thetic films were displayed showing the departure and voyage of a transatlantic airplane and also the dropping of mail pouches at postal air stations between London and the North of England.

Mr. Thomas, who has had large experience in flying and building aircraft, said that airplane mail service could be established commercially. "A special aeroplane will enable the business man to leave London in the morning, transact his business in Paris, and be home to dinner again," he said. "It will take him to Baghdad in a day and a half and to New York in two days."

The cost from London to Paris, he added, would be just over a dollar a

JUDGE LANDIS WILL BE GUEST OF DIXON

WILL SPEAK TO BUSINESS MEN AT CHAMBER COMMERCE BANQUET.

PUBLIC ADDRESS AT 8:15

An invitation to hear Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis discuss the Red Cross and the War at the opera house at 8:15 o'clock this evening is extended to every man and woman in Dixon. The mass meeting, which has been arranged by the Dixon Chamber of Commerce in order that all may hear the most famous of the United States district judges, will be presided over by Judge R. S. Farrand of this city and will commence immediately after the open air concert by the Nachusa Taverna.

Prior to the mass meeting Judge Landis will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given by the Dixon Chamber of Commerce at the Elks club, to which they have invited a number of business and professional men who are not members of the commercial organization. The banquet will mark the end of the Chamber's campaign to bring their membership to 300, and Judge Landis will deliver a few remarks there which should instill a spirit of real civic progress in the hearts and minds of all who hear him. The banquet will begin promptly at 6:30 o'clock.

GERMAN BANK SHOWS DECREASE IN RESERVE

FOR FIRST TIME DURING WAR REPORT SHOWS LOSS OF RESOURCES.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) Copenhagen, June 29 — For the first time during the war the report of the Commercial Bank of Germany shows a decrease in its total reserve, which this week is $76,000,000.

For some time the deposits at the bank have been steadily declining despite an extensive propaganda to the people to surrender their jewelry. The bank has heretofore been saved the humiliation of showing a decrease in its reserve.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts of Paw Paw were guests of Dixon friends Wednesday.

RED CROSS WAS NOT SUPPORTED AS IT MERITED

THE PAULIST CONCERT SHOULD HAVE RECEIVED DOUBLE PATRONAGE.

GAVE TWO FINE PROGRAMS

About 1500 People Heard and Enjoyed Singing Thursday Night.

Delay in compiling the reports of ticket sales in the outlying towns of Lee county and in getting all of the bills in makes it impossible for the committee in charge of the Red Cross benefit concert given yesterday by the Paulist Choir of Chicago to make any report on the net proceeds of the event, but as soon as all figures are returned they will be published.

The benefit was a success, but the early indications are that the people of Dixon and Lee county did not support the affair in the way it should have been. The excellence of the attraction and the worthiness of the cause should have been a combination that would have resulted in a very large addition to the Red Cross fund; as it is, it is very doubtful if the net proceeds will exceed $1,000.

Gave Fine Concerts.

The two concerts by the famous singers were real treats, and everyone who heard them was more than pleased. The choristers sing with finish and precision, and their programs are varied to such an extent that all can find numbers to their particular liking.

About 1500 people attended the Thursday evening concert and heartily applauded the singers. The choir in every way met all expectations and in both solo and chorus work showed excellent training.

Thanks From Society.

To the Knights of Columbus, who graciously volunteered their contract with the Choir to the Red Cross, to the many workers who canvassed for sale of tickets and the various committees who worked hard to make the benefit a great success, thanks of the Lee County Chapter American Red Cross are extended.

CHURCH TO INSTALL INDIRECT LIGHTING

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN AUDITORIUM WILL BE MODERNLY LIGHTED.

St. Paul's Lutheran church, in addition to other repairs, will have installed by the X-Ray Reflector Co. of Chicago the new indirect lighting system in use in the larger churches of large cities. Two sets of three bulbs of 500 watts each, each set enclosed in a bowl fourteen inches in diameter will illuminate the entire main body of the church, giving the diffused light which more nearly resembles daylight. In this system the emanating rays of light are not visible.

The church anticipates that the exterior and interior repairs, including the re-decorating of the interior, will be completed by Sept. 1st.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY ADJOURNS

Governor Lowden Vetoes dSome Appropriations; Cuts State Expenses.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) Springfield, June 29—Gov. Lowden today decided to allow to become a law without his signature Representative Gannon's bill prohibiting the exhibition of motion pictures liable to incite race hatred.

The 50th Illinois General Assembly adjourned sine die at 1:12 this afternoon. The end of the session was peaceful except for objection on the part of Representative Lee O'Neil Browne and Michael Igoe to the reading as an opinion of the attorney general on the basis of which Gov. Lowden vetoed an item for $14,000 in personal claims. The governor vetoed claims of contestants who lost seats in the house, covering attorney fees, but allowed like claims to members who were seated.

The sum of $408,984 cut from the omnibus bill reduced the total appropriation for state expenses for the ensuing two years to something like $20,000,000.

Among the important bills vetoed by the governor were:

Prohibiting high school fraternities.

Appropriating $250,000 for an Illinois memorial building.

Representative Le O'Neal Browne's bill creating a department for examiners of hoisting engineers.

Senator Coleman's bill providing that in suits of chancery it shall not be necessary to mail notices of suit to a non-resident alien enemy residing in any country with which the U. S. is at war.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH LATE THURSDAY EVE.

MISS ALLIE LOY VICTIM OF MIS-HAP WITH ALCOHOL LAMP.

DIED WITHIN FIVE HOURS

Lighted Lamp To Make Cup Of Tea While Alone In Her Room.

Miss Allie Loy, aged 52, died at the Dixon hospital at 2:30 o'clock this morning as the result of terrible burns she received late Thursday evening when her clothing became ignited from an alcohol lamp in her room at the home of John Lowrey, 908 Fourth street, where she roomed. Practically the entire surface of her body was horribly burned and from the time she was taken to the hospital it was known she could not survive.

It had been the unfortunate woman's habit to make a cup of tea every night before retiring, and Thursday night when she went to her room at about 10 o'clock, it is supposed she lighted the alcohol lamp and either dropped the match into the folds of her skirt or upset the lamp after lighting it.

Delayed By Locked Door.

Mr. Lowrey, who was in the lower part of the house, soon after Miss Loy had gone to her room heard a fall and suspecting the woman might have injured herself, went to her room. He heard no screams. He found the door to her room locked, and receiving no answer when he called, went around through a hall and into the room through another door.

Miss Loy was lying on the floor a mass of flames. Mr. Lowrey picked her up and rushed down stairs and onto the front porch with her, and then attempted to tear the burning clothing from her body. In the meantime a call for help was telephoned to the fire department and Commissioner Whitcombe, Fire Chief Coffey, Fireman Penny and W. G. Kent responded in the motor patrol.

Flesh Clung To Clothing.

Efforts to remove the woman's clothing showed how terribly she was burned, for pieces of skin and flesh clung to the burning goods. The victim of the tragedy was wrapped in a blanket and rushed to the hospital, where everything possible was done to relieve her suffering. (Closes dead.)

SAFE SALESMAN IS HELD FOR LARCENY

BERT CHASE MUST ANSWER SERIOUS CHARGE—TAKEN AT FREEPORT.

Sheriff Phillips went to Freeport this morning armed with a warrant for the arrest of Bert Chase, a safe salesman, who is charged with larceny, and who has been arrested and held by the Freeport officers on the advice of local authorities. Chase is charged with having some time ago deposited with the Nachusa Tavern to cover a board bill of $50, a watch which had been given to him by a Dixon man to sell. Later he asked for the watch, saying he had a chance to sell it and that from the safe he would realize enough funds to pay the bill. He was given the watch, and promptly "beat it." He was later located in Freeport and this evening will be brought back to Dixon by the sheriff to stand hearing.

Four Foreigners Appeared at Headquarters For Membership

The ladies in charge of the Lee Co. Their spirit in wishing to help the great movement is especially commendable, as none of them is able to read English.

PRIEST IS IN JAIL; U. S. INVESTIGATES

REV. K. OSTENHOETTER OF SHANNON DISGUISED SELF AS A WOMAN.

TAKEN AT FREEPORT HOTEL

(Special to Telegraph)

Freeport, June 29—Although federal authorities are still investigating the possibilities that he may be a spy, nothing new has developed in the case of Rev. K. Ostenkoetter, whose eccentric actions caused his arrest here.

The priest, who for several months has been in charge of the Catholic parish at Shannon, Ill., is still in jail but no legal or ecclesiastical action has been brought against him. There seems little ground for suspicion that he is a spy and his friends are inclined to believe he is laboring under a mental disorder.

Last evening he appeared at a hotel garbed in the height of fashion of woman's apparel. The one thing lacking in his makeup—he had neglected to wear woman's shoes—proved his undoing and caused his arrest.

Investigators for the department of justice of the United States, Ward E. Thompson and J. C. Drautburg, were in the lobby of the hotel when Ostenkoetter came in and they were attracted by the peculiar actions of the "lady" who stepped up to the counter to register. The night clerk at the hotel was also of the opinion that he was dealing with an unusual character, for the hands of the "woman" were noticeably large. When the patron, giving the name of "Ellen Wisner, Rockford, Ill.," asked for a room the deep voice of the customer completed his betrayal. When the "woman" left the desk to be taken to a room Mr. Thompson, who had noticed the large feet of the person at the counter, walked up to the clerk and asked to know what the joke was and what was going to happen, as he felt sure the person was a male instead of a female. While the government man and clerk were talking the bell boy, who had taken the party to a room, returned all excited, stating that it was a man he had shown to a room and not a woman.

YOUTH RUINED HIS BENEFACTOR'S YOUNG DAUGHTER

NORWEGIAN, PAROLED FROM PRISON, ARRESTED HERE IN GIRL'S COMPANY.

HELD TO COMING GRAND JURY

Unable To Furnish $2,500 Bonds — Admitted Relations With Girl.

Herman Aannensen, aged 31, a Norwegian, admitted in Justice Gehant's court that he had repaid the kindness of Michael Moore, a Morrison farmer, who had paroled him from the Joliet penitentiary and had given him a home on the family farm near Morrison, by ruining his benefactor's fourteen-year old daughter Namie, in whose company he was at the Bishop Hotel here last evening when arrested by Officer Winters. A statutory charge was preferred against him and he was held to the September grand jury under bonds of $2,500, which he could not furnish. Accordingly he will remain in jail until the next grand jury takes action on his case.

Taken To Moore Home.

According to the evidence given before Justice Gehant Aannensen was paroled from the state prison by Mr. Moore, who has been giving his reports to the prison authorities, and who gave the fellow a home with him and furnished him employment on the Moore farm. Later Mr. Moore became suspicious of his charge's attitude toward his young daughter and care was taken that both young people should not be allowed to leave the place at the same time.

Early in the week the girl went to Polo to visit friends, and Aannensen left home later. He is said to have gone to Polo to get the girl and to have brought her to the Bishop hotel here yesterday. Hotel employees became suspicious, notified the police and as a result Officer Winters took them both into his custody last night. The girl was not held by Justice Gehant, and she was allowed to go home with her father, after admitting improper relations.

RUSSIA WILL FIGHT TO END

Petrograd, June 29—Elhu Root of the American commission, and Minister of War Kerensky have returned from the front where they visited the headquarters of Gen. Thousands Of Deserters From German Army Pouring Into Holland Now

The Hague, Netherlands, June 4 — (Correspondence)—Thousands of deserters mostly from the German army now are swelling the stream of refugees pouring into Holland from adjoining countries. Holland has become a great place of refuge for fugitives fleeing from the terrors of the German front, foot hard ships or the military regime.

So numerous have these war refugees become that a weekly periodical, called "The Combat" has been established at Amsterdam to carry on a revolutionary socialist propaganda among them. A Society of Deserters has been formed in Holland, apparently by German agents in order to discover the names of the deserters and exert pressure on their families to induce them to return to Germany. Returning deserters no longer are shot but are sent to the front.

The country is overrun by a small army of spies, persons of both sexes whose work is to spy into Dutch affairs, to spy upon the belligerents and sometimes to spy upon one another.

These refugees, deserters and government agents, added to escaping prisoners of war of virtually every European nationality, fugitive Poles and other peoples of Eastern Eur-

CANADIANS TAKE LENS OUTSKIRTS

Paris, June 29.—Under a protecting concentration of artillery fire Canadian troops stormed and captured the German front line before Avion, a suburb of Lens. By this advance the British line has been carried forward to within one mile of the center of Lens.

The Canadians, heartened by successes gained in the last few days at relatively small cost, decided to attack across the open ground sloping forward to Avion and the village of Leuvellette, near the Souchez river. They met opposition of a serious character at only one point, where a combination of machine gun fire and uncut wires delayed the advance. The attack was not intended to be pressed home at this particular spot, as the ground especially favored the Germans, so that the delay did no harm.

The assaulting troops included men from British Columbia, Manitoba, central Ontario and Nova Scotia.

Attack on a Two Mile Front.

The attack was made along a two mile front. On the extreme left Nova Scotians pushed their way up the Lens-Arras road to the village of Leuvellette. Here they took a number of prisoners.

At the other end of the line, east of the railway tracks, dugouts of the enemy were bombed. Their occupants belonged to the crack Prussian guards corps, the Fifth guard grenadiers, who refused in most cases to come out and surrender. One officer and twenty-two men of the grenadiers decided that discretion was the better part of valor. Others are believed to be still alive in the dugouts, which will be thoroughly explored after the ground won is consolidated.

At daybreak Canadian airplanes, flying low over Avion, saw few Germans there. Craters which recently were made by mine explosions at the crossroads are now seriously hindering them in bringing up troops from Lens for counter attacks.

The enemy's guns have been shelling Canadian communication trenches, but Canadian "heavies" are now taking them on with good results.

British Repulse Germans.

London, June 29.—German attacks south of the Colvel river were repulsed by the British, the war office announces.

Germans Repulsed in Alsace.

Paris, June 29.—The Germans attacked the salient of Wattweiler, northeast of Thann, in Alsace, according to the war office announcement. They were repulsed, leaving a number of dead.

Bombard Dunkerque.

Berlin, June 29.—German heavy long range batteries bombarded the Anglo-French fortified port of Dunkerque with visible effect, says the official statement issued by the German war department. In retaliation Entente artillery bombarded the German occupied town of Ostend, in Belgium, but, the statement adds, the shells did no military damage.

Large Variety Of Feeds Unnecessary For Hens.

That a simple ration consisting of corn and a protein supplement is more economical under usual market conditions than a mixture of several different feeds for laying hens in winter is shown by feeding tests at the Ohio Experiment Station.

Corn and meat scrap have given practically as good returns as a ration of corn, wheat, oats, bran, middlings, oilmeal and meat scrap. The hens fed the simple ration had access to self-feeding hoppers containing a dry mash made of eight parts of ground corn and five parts of meat scrap analyzing 50 percent protein. They received twice as much corn, fed in equal portions in the litter twice daily, as they consumed of the mash, and also had grit and oyster shells.

The hens fed the variety ration laid more eggs, but not enough more to pay for the extra cost of their feed. Tankage and skimmilk, as well as meat scrap, are recommended to be fed with corn for laying hens.

Finesness Of Limestone

The effectiveness of limestone is dependent upon its finesness as well as upon its purity. Tests at the Ohio Experiment Station indicate that limestone ground to the ordinary degree of finesness is satisfactory for correcting soil acidity.

More than three-fourths of the coarse limestone applied in these tests still remained in the soil unchanged after two years. Material coarser than one-twentieth inch has little effect, chemists at the Experiment Station say, because it cannot be as thoroughly distributed throughout the soil and therefore cannot act as quickly in correcting acid conditions as more finely ground material. Limestone marketed having 100 meshes to pass through a sieve with 10 meshes to the linear inch, 50 percent to pass 50 mesh and 35 percent to pass 100 mesh is considered satisfactory for all practical purposes.

Oats watered to make them weigh more can not legally be shipped in interstate commerce.

Frank Fassler of Route 7 was in Dixon today.

Mrs. William DePuy and Mrs. Claude Harrington of Route 3 were here Thursday to attend the Paulist choir concert.

"DIMMER" LAW WILL CURB WILD AUTOISTS

Governor Lowden signed a law that will be of material aid to coroners and other officers in the crusade against wild motorists. It is the Guernsey "dimmer" act and prohibits the flashing of strong headlights upon an approaching automobile.

The new law will be available for use next Sunday, July 1. It compels the dimming or extinguishing of headlights when within not less than 250 feet of any vehicle proceeding in the opposite direction. Fast driving with dimmers on is too dangerous even for otherwise reckless road idiots.

It is provided that front and rear lights must show on standing motor cars.

The act also sends Child drivers back to the nursery by providing a fine of from $10 to $25 for any person under sixteen years caught driving an automobile and for any person who permits the child to do so.

One of the strongest sections is aimed at innocent receivers of stolen cars who "didn't know there was anything wrong." Merely to have in one's possession a car from which the manufacturers number has been removed or defaced means a $200 fine, six months in jail or both.

Cut High Living Costs by the Use of Milk.

That the high cost of living may be reduced by the increased use of milk, a highly nutritious and digestible food, is the opinion of A. E. Perkins, dairy chemist at the Ohio Experiment Station. He says that a quart of milk is equal in food value to three-fourths of a pound of beefsteak, eight eggs, 15 pounds of oysters, two pounds of fish, six pounds of tomatoes or three pounds of apples, and the milk is more easily digested and far more economical than any of the other foods.

One erroneous conception the public has, this chemist declares, is that cream contains in concentrated form most of the valuable food material present in the milk from which the cream was taken. Because of this fact the cream is usually sold for as much as the original milk, while the skim-milk, which contains about half of the food material, is fed to animals or thrown away. He has shown that in fact cream is a luxury and that milk is much cheaper and more nutritious. Digestive disorders sometimes follow excessive eating of fats, which is another argument besides cost against the substitution of cream for milk.

Protein is the most expensive ingredient in foods, being especially costly in meats. It is exceptionally abundant in milk. For this reason milk is said to be a suitable food to balance a diet rich in starches, sugars and fat, such as would result from the use of only cereals, fruits and vegetables. At ordinary prices Chemist Perkins has figured that skimmilk at 10 cents a quart would be a more economical food than meat.

Mrs. Louis Bryan and baby have returned from a visit with her grand daughter, Mrs. Lewis MacGeorge.

DIRECTIONS GIVEN FOR CANNING FRUIT WITHOUT ANY SUGAR

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE ISSUES INFORMATION OF GREAT BENEFIT.

PACK IN CAN; ADD HOT WATER

Cans Should Then Be Sealed and Sterilized—Detailed Instructions.

(Associated Press)

Washington, D. C., June 23.—Fruit for use in pie or salads or as stewed fruit can be put up or canned without the use of sugar at all, according to the canning specialists of the Department. They, therefore, advise those who, because of the high price of sugar, have been thinking of reducing the amount of fruit they put up, to can as much of their surplus as possible by the use of boiling water when sugar syrup is beyond their means. Any fruit, they say, may be successfully sterilized in the pack by simply adding boiling water instead of syrup. The use of sugar of course, is desirable in the canning of all fruits and makes a better and ready-sweetened product. Moreover, most alone do not retain their natural flavor, texture and color as well as fruit put up in syrup. Fruit canned without sugar to be used for sauces or desserts must be sweetened.

Directions For Canning.

Can the product the same day it is picked. Cull, stem or seed, and clean the fruit by placing it in a strainer and pouring water over it until it is clean. Pack the product thoroughly in glass jars or tin cans until they are full; use the handle of a tablespoon, wooden ladle, or table knife for packing purposes. Pour over the fruit boiling water from a kettle, place rubbers and caps in position, partially seal if using glass jars, seal completely if using the tin cans. Place the containers in a sterilizing vat such as a wash boiler with false bottom, or other receptacle improvised for the purpose. If using a hot water bath outfit, process for 30 minutes; count time after the water has reached the boiling point; the water must cover the highest jar in container. After sterilizing remove packs, seal glass jars, wrap in paper to prevent bleaching and store in a dry, cool place.

If you are canning in tin cans it will improve the product to plunge the cans quickly into cold water immediately after sterilization. When using a pressure canner instead of the hot water bath, sterilize for 10 minutes with five pounds of steam pressure. Never allow the pressure to go over ten pounds.

ROCKFORD GIVES CAMP FUND

Citizens Pledge $47,000 for Cantonment Site—Army Inspector Pleased.

ROCKFORD, ILL., June 29.—Major M. J. Whitson made a short tour of investigation over the Rockford cantonment site as army chief of construction of all camps, and was pleased with progress made.

Rockford citizens pledged $47,700 of a $100,000 fund at a mass meeting for the cantonment. Recreation commission agents plan to create a ten mile moral zone around the camp.

U. S. Stepson Freed by British.

BELVIDERE, ILL., June 29.—If Julius Kropp had not taken out naturalization papers years ago his stepson, Otto Schlaeretski, probably would still be held on the Isle of Man by the British government as an alien enemy. Instead Otto, who was taken from a merchant vessel at Liverpool two years ago and interned, is now at home relating his adventures.

Pleads Duplicate Service.

BELVIDERE, ILL., June 29.—The plea of duplication of service without benefit to the community is set forth in an action begun before the state public utilities commission by the Boone County Rural Telephone company against the Farmers' Union Telephone company of Winnebago county.

MURDERER SELECTS DEATH BY SHOOTING

HOWARD DE WEESE, WHO KILLED HIS WIFE, WILL BE SHOT JULY 6.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 29.—Howard De Weese, sentenced to die for the slaying of his wife, last September, has chosen to be shot rather than hanged at the law's hands, July 6. He is resigned to his fate and says he hopes no steps will be taken to secure a new trial or reprieve.

The laws of Utah provide that a person sentenced to death may decide the day he shall die. Before deciding upon being shot De Weese asked a prison guard relative to the caliber of the bullets, stating that he did not want marksmen to "play" whom he formerly associated, who with him, but to make death instantaneous.

De Weese eloped with the wife of Harry W. Fisher, New York haberdasher, from New York. They went to Reno and Pacific coast cities to live. Last September the pair who had married at Reno after Mrs. Fisher obtained a divorce, came to Salt Lake City.

A few days later neighbors became suspicious and the apartment was entered. They discovered the body of Mrs. De Weese, her features smashed by a flatiron which lay on the bed beside her.

A few months later De Weese surrendered to the Chicago police. In the interval between his surrender and trial, he confessed to numerous burglaries and boasted that he was one of the greatest diamond thieves of the last decade. He asserted that he and his wife was slain by robbers with fire of the bullets, stating that he did not want marksmen to "play" whom he formerly associated, who had tracked him and his wife to Salt Lake City and, when he was out, committed the murder to obtain $12,000 worth of jewels which De Weese said he had stolen.

The accumulating of a substantial fortune can create a prosperous man, but not necessarily a happy one; a peaceful conscience is the true content, and wealth is but her golden ornament.

Horticulturists Met

Members of the Rock River Valley Horticultural Society, meeting Thursday at the Prairieville church, heard from County Soil Advisor, L. S. Griffith of Amboy, of "The Business Farmer" in the chief address of the afternoon. J. D. Billsborrow of Urbana, Assistant State Leader of Farm Advisory Work, also addressed the meeting, telling of county organization for farmers and farmers' wives. Other interesting items on the program were a series of Hawaiian songs, with self accompaniment on the ukulele and piano accompaniment by Miss Walck of Sterling and Raymond Ebersole, grandsons of Anson Thummel of Sterling who have spent some time in Hawaii and are familiar with the native Hawaiian music; a violin solo, "Berceuse" by Miss Eva Lawton of Palmyra, with accompaniment upon piano by Mrs. Oscar Buhler and response to an encore by the "Traumerel"; and the vocal selection, "I'll Sing the Songs of Araby", by Miss Edna Powers, with Mrs. Wilbur Myers as the accompaniment, with "Tender Ties" in response to an encore. The program followed the hearty noon luncheon, at which strawberries play a large part in the dessert, giving the name to this meeting of "the annual strawberry festival". Peonies and roses decorated the five long tables seating the nearly one hundred members present.

George Ransom, president of the society, was in charge of the business meeting and program which followed the luncheon. The reading of the minutes of the last meeting occupied some time. Justin Hartwell and Austin Powers were appointed by the president as a committee to draw resolutions of sorrow upon the death of a member of the society, the late Josiah Buffet. At the close of the meeting, preceding a vote of thanks to those taking part in the program and to Mrs. Geo. Klosterman for extending the freedom of her home to the members of the society during the day, the resolutions were submitted as follows:

"Rock River Valley Horticultural Society has lost a much valued friend in the passing of one of its most esteemed members and a former president, Mr. Josiah Buffet. The real value to this world of every human being is spiritual and not physical. Mr. Buffet in this sense is with us today, and is an active force in holding the work of the society up to the fine standard of character which his worldly existence uniformly portrayed.

"We all loved Mr. Buffet—as a business associate, as a neighbor, as a friend. He was uniformly kind, honest and sympathetic, and under all circumstances a gentleman.

"While we are barred the privilege today of grasping his hand, it is a benediction to have known him. His immediate family will sadly miss his presence and to them is extended the sympathy of the society.

"Resolved: That it is the desire of this organization that the foregoing be published in the local papers and that copies be forwarded by the society to the members of the family."

Signed,

Justin Hartwell,
Austin Powers.

"The Business Farmer", as presented by County Agent Griffith is the ideal farmer, who makes his business pay through logical headwork, not satisfied simply to put seed in the ground every year, to cultivate and to harvest, but to reckon the cost, counting as cost his labor, which so few farmers do and, at least, making his capital in investment realize him a rate of interest that any other business might reasonably be expected to return. On the average Lee County farm said Mr. Griffith, $21,325 is invested. According to that, the average farmer should be able to have as net returns at least $1,200 a year, over and above his own salary. The answer of the question, "How can he do this?" is not crop rotation, old school of farming had it, but crop rotation, possibly, with the addition of fertilizers—limestone, phosphate potash, nitrogen through the turning under of clover crops, etc., crop residues, manures, etc. It is the business of the farmer, said Mr. Griffith, to acquaint himself with his condition in such a way as to apply the best to his own business.

Mr. Griffith suggested a visit by the farmers of Lee County to Urbana where they might see the results of proper application of fertilizers and realize the results, shown by virgin soil producing forty bushels of corn to the acre and, when fertilized, producing ninety bushels. The society authorized Mr. Griffith to make arrangements for such a visit, offering him the hearty co-operation of the membership in securing representative number of Lee County farmers for such a visit. Mr. Griffith also spoke of the much that could be learned through visits to the Lee County experiment station near Dixon, and a meeting at the experiment farm was planned for July.

J. D. Billsborrow of Urbana, in his talk on county organization, stated that of the three thousand counties in the United States, 1300 already have county soil advisors and that in the woman's department of county organization, Household Science, between four and five hundred women are employed as county advisors. There is, however, but one county in Illinois, Kankakee, that is thus organized.

Cly Alty Club

Mrs. Rodney Ayres' beautiful new home was the meeting place Thursday afternoon for the Cly Alty club. Mrs. Nolan Lord, Mrs. Ayres' daughter, entertained. The afternoon was passed pleasantly with the usual club luncheon. Mrs. Major will be hostess next club day.

Visiting in Pennsylvania

Miss Dora Miller and Mrs. Henry Hess, who are visiting relatives in Pennsylvania, write of the enjoyable time they are having.

Just So It's Beefsteak.

Paul, who lived in the country where at his house pork is the predominant meat throughout the year, had gone to the city to visit his aunt. Thinking, of course, she must have things he liked best to eat, she asked him what kind of meat she should get for dinner, and Paul's reply was, "I don't care, aunty, whether it is horse or cow, just so it's beefsteak."

GUIDE ARIGHT.

Every man is the center of perpetual radiation like a luminous body. He is, as it were, a beacon which entices a ship upon the rocks if it does not guide it safely into port.—Amiel.

Volcanoes in the United States.

More than a quarter of the active volcanoes of the world are on United States soil, according to the Popular Science Monthly. We have the distinction of possessing about sixty volcanoes in Alaska and in the Aleutian Islands just off the coast. In the western United States, in the Philippines and in the Hawaiian Islands we have nearly as many more, making over a hundred volcanoes that we possess (not that we place any value upon their possession). There are but 417 throughout the entire globe.

A Friend.

There are two elements that go to the composition of friendship, each so sovereign that I detect no superiority in either, no reason why either should be the first named. One is truth. A friend is a person with whom I can be sincere. The other element of friendship is tenderness. When a man becomes dear to me I have touched the goal of fortune.—Emerson.

IMPATIENCE.

Impatience is a poor master and a hard one as well. In the impatient mood we are apt to spend far more than is required in the doing of our work, and this excess is lost. We cannot estimate the value of the power thus misplaced. When the impatient mood becomes the habit of a lifetime you can understand that failure, and perhaps loss of health and energy are inevitable.—Emily S. Bouton.

PROSPECTS OF THE DAYLIGHT BILL.

The author of the Daylight Saving bill in the senate, Senator Calder, is quoted by the New York American as expressing his opinion that the measure is bound to become a law during the present session of congress, and believes that a strong sentiment both in and out of congress is behind the bill, notwithstanding the opposition which has developed in the house. He says: "The plan of saving daylight by waking the country up one hour before its usual hour of rising is one of the greatest conservation measures that has been proposed in connection with the war." Senator Newlands, chairman of the senate committee, which has recommended the bill for passage, says it is a war measure of prime importance and that it will be placed before the senate at the earliest opportunity.

The beautiful summer weather has just begun, even though a month or more in time has been lost for this plan, and this is an argument in its favor and the plan should be put into operation immediately.

To introduce the plan, all that would happen is this: On a certain night when going to bed people would put their clocks ahead an hour. The next morning they would get up at the same time by the clock, go to breakfast, business, luncheon, dinner, all at the usual time; and the only observable difference would be that they would have spent a shorter time in bed, in the morning, by an hour, and they would have an extra hour of daylight to spend usefully. Incidentally they would turn on the artificial light an hour later in the evening and save so much on their bills for gas and electric current.

People who might object to being robbed of an hour in bed on the night the plan was started, could draw comfort from the reflection that on the night the plan was reversed in the late summer, they would have an extra hour for sleep.

Opposition to the daylight saving project can only proceed from lack of understanding of the subject.

Persons who have been used to hear the whistle blow at 12 o'clock noon scent calamity should the same occur at 11 o'clock; they cannot get it into their heads that under the plan the whistle would still blow at 12 o'clock, and that in reality the question of whether or not it is noon by the sun has nothing to do with the matter. No one is actually conscious that at a certain time of day the sun has attained the top of his arch across the sky. In point of fact, there are only a few places in the country where noon and 12 o'clock coincide. Under the plan, 12 o'clock would still be the time for the midday "knocking off" and the evening suspension of work would also occur at the same clock time as before; the only difference would be that the sun, at each of these times, would, on his daily path, be one hour behind his present schedule—an astronomical fact which no one would care anything at all about. What people would be interested in would be to observe that they would now have an additional hour of daylight after stopping work for the day, in which to do things which they can do only by the light of the sun.

The principal active opposition comes from the railroads, who fear confusion over time tables. This, however, is not justified by experience, as it has been found an easy matter to accustom people to remember that railroad time is an hour ahead of local time and to govern their movements accordingly.

AUTOS MAY BE SCARCE.

There is not a factory in the United States engaged in the manufacture of automobiles or parts that will not be called upon by the officials of the government to divert at least a part of either their products or their activities from their present uses to manufacture of aircraft.

Aeroplanes and hydroplanes are needed by the thousands and they are needed immediately by the United States and its allies, and the officials of the government have decided that they propose to make use of every available facility in the country for the purpose of acquiring and maintaining such an overwhelming superiority in these engines of warfare, both in numbers and efficiency, as will render Germany utterly powerless.

Supported by the opinions of experts from every government now at war with Germany, the long unheeded advice of the officers of the United States army has at last been accepted. It is confidently believed that congress has awakened to the necessity of building a large number of aircraft, and will render whatever further assistance may be necessary for the expeditious accomplishment of that object.

The control and general mechanism of hydroaeroplanes it is stated do not differ materially from those of aeroplanes, and the preliminary education in the fundamentals of mechanical construction while is received by the students over which Maj. Bingham presides, and the practical experience in flying which they get at the aviation fields, will fit them for work in piloting a hydroaeroplane.

Many of the parts used in the assembling of an aeroplane can be used as well in a hydroaeroplane, and the two kinds of machines can be made in the same factories.

STRICHNINE KILLS LENA YOUNG WOMAN

NOT KNOWN WHETHER MARIAN KING WAS SUICIDE OR ACCIDENT VICTIM.

Lena, Ill., June 29—Miss Marian King, the 20-year old daughter of Mrs. Belle King, ended her life at the home of her mother Wednesday evening by drinking strychnine. Whether the act was done with suicidal intent or whether it was an accident is not known. The coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that Miss King had died from strychnine poisoning, which was administered by herself, either by accident or with suicidal intent. It was early in the evening when Miss King, who was upstairs at her mother's home, called down to her mother saying she had taken the strychnine. The mother rushed to her daughter's assistance and several physicians were summoned, but when they arrived the young lady had passed away.

It was testified at the inquest that Miss King had been somewhat depressed for the past several weeks. She appeared to be feeling ill and it is believed that she was despondent.

Properly Punished.

"Young gentlemen, do not get into the habit of betting," said the professor to his class. "No kind of bet is excusable. In fact, every bet is a sin as well as a mark of vulgarity. Have nothing to do, young gentlemen, with a bet of any kind."

"That, I suppose, puts a finisher on our old friend the alphabet," exclaimed one of the students.

The professor smiled blandly upon the young man and gave him fifty extra lines of Greek. —Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Mentality of Octopus.

"There is a great deal of difference in the mental attitude of devil fishes or octopus," says Charles F. Holden in St. Nicholas. "In a tank in the Avon aquarium, which contains three or four octopus, all but one were timid. One attacked my hand, and seemed to enjoy being touched. A large California sheephead in this aquarium became so tame that it liked to be scratched about the head with a wire or stick, and followed people about the tank, especially the man who fed it. It was interesting to see it change color as the man stroked it with the wire."

Nothing to Learn.

"Willie, what did you learn at school today?" "Didn't learn nothin'. Teacher said there's nothin' new under the sun. That let me out." —Richmond Times Dispatch.

Our New Plan of Selling

Selling clothes at one low price the year around is a success at this store. Eliminating a high "mark-up" at the beginning of the season to offset a loss at clearance sale time is good business—and doesn't "rob Peter to help out Paul."

On this new price basis our clothing does not show the natural advance that has come so far. We are still selling you these good Hart Schaffner and Marx suits at prices below their actual values. Let us show you how well we can bear out these statements.

Richter Says He's Convinced Tanlac Will Completely Restore Health
 Urbana, June 28.—"The relief I've already received convinces me that Tanlac is going to completely restore my health", George Richter, prominent Urbana retired carpenter of 407 E. Elm street, said on May 19. Mr. Richter formerly was Big Four Railroad carpenter.

"About a year and a half ago I suffered a severe fall, injuring my back, and since that time my kidneys have been very weak", he continued. My health has been generally poor during the past year and it seemed that nothing I ate agreed with me. Everything caused gas to form in my stomach and would seem to clog up my system. Lots of times for two or three hours after meals I would suffer severe cramps. My nerves were completely shattered. I couldn't sleep and always felt tired.

"Tanlac has placed my stomach in perfect shape. Anything I eat now—meats, vegetables, and the like—agrees with me and digests properly. My kidneys have been greatly strengthened. The nervousness has left me and I now sleep soundly all night. In fact, I feel better in every way".

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, loss of appetite, catarrhal complaints and the like.

Tanlac is being introduced and explained in Dixon at Campbell & Son's Drug Store and in Franklin Grove at C. S. Ives Drug Store.

LODGE OPPOSES DRY AMENDMENT

Massachusetts Leader Says It Would Weaken Nation.

FEARS DIVISION OF AMERICANS

Republican Leader Says He is in Favor of Anything That Will End War. Animosities Among People of U. S. Sure to Follow Dry Law—Johnson Favors It.

Washington, June 29.—"I do not at this time want to offend and anger a great mass of the people who see no harm in drinking a glass of beer. I want to see all distilled liquors stopped from manufacture. But I hope the senate will pause before going further. Don't forget it is sentiment that will win this war. It is more than money, more than anything. There is one thing the American people will not forgive. And that is an issue that will divide public sentiment and hinder the nation in doing all that it can to win the war."

Those are the words of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge flung to the senate as he opened the debate on the prohibition amendments to the food control bill.

Senator Lodge predicted a division of public opinion and sentiment if the people were deprived of the privilege of drinking beer as it proposed in the amendments.

The bill is destined for a fierce battle. Senator Hardwick of Georgia moved to send it back to the committee on the ground that some sections of it violated the constitution. But even Senator Hardwick in spite of his opposition to the bill, lined up behind Senator Lodge. The Georgian said: "I feel that the senator from Massachusetts has stated the question correctly and that we should not go so far during the war as to dissatisfy and render discontented so many people."

Beer Matter Arouses Dries.
 The attack upon the idea of eliminating beer from privileged drinks has frightened prohibitionists. They fear that all the liquor amendments may be cut from the bill. The senate finance committee is said to favor this too, on the ground that if the prohibition amendments were affixed not to the food control but to the war revenue bill, the financial loss sustained by dry laws would be brought forward more forcibly.

Johnson Favors Bill.
 Although Lodge's speech was the feature of the day, an earlier speech by Hiram Johnson attracted such attention. The California Progressive came out flatly for the bill, saying that while usually opposed to autocratic authority, yet the presence of the war justified it.

"In time of national crisis there must be lodged in one central agency the right immediately to use and direct every resource of the nation. We have placed this authority with the President. His is the power and his the responsibility," said Johnson.

Senator Lodge followed Senator Johnson.

FOOD AND THE HOUSEWIFE

In an article by J. Ogden Armour, in the Ladies Home Journal for July, will be found the following four rules, by which housekeepers can reduce the cost of living.

1. Eliminate waste.
 2. Purchase on the basis of need, not whim.
 3. Lesson the amount of food eaten.
 4. Reduce your standard of living.
- There are wise and necessary suggestions for all to follow, and Mr. Armour says "the woman who is handling food stuff is just as important as the men on the battle fields" and his cry is to women to conserve that hunger may not be added to our foes. The following books, to be found in the Dixon Public Library, will give many suggestions that will aid one.

Ward puts it up to each man to get $250 in one day. Munroe makes $25 as a laborer. Johnny gambles and gets $250.

Ward astounds the party by telling how, by shrewd business deals in one day in the Golden City, he accumulated several thousand dollars.

Ward decides that he will not go with the party to the mines, but will stay in San Francisco, where he thinks more gold is to be found.

The party dig their first gold. They are not much encouraged when told that the value of their first pan is 12 cents.

Don Gaspar, a Spaniard, and his man-servant Vasquez join forces with the trio and the gold is divided into five parts.

After working like beavers several days the miners decide to take a day off and attend a miners' meeting in town.

For $15 a week in gold and a drink of whiskey twice a day Hagerty promises to lead the party to a richly manured mining country.

A band of Indians come into the camp to trade. They are thankful for blankets. Later the Indians attempt an ambush, but are routed by rifle shots.

McNally is found with group of traders. Vasquez, left in charge of camp, is found scalped by the red men.

Yank, Buck Barry and Don Gaspar are sent to town with $25,000 in gold. Barry and Don Gaspar return to camp declaring they have been robbed.

Johnny gets into an altercation with Scarface Charlie. Johnny's splendid nerve attracts Danny Randall, who is seeking honest men in the camp.

CHAPTER XXVI.

Community No Longer Afraid.

A SPECIES of uneasy consternation rippled over the crowd. Men glanced meaningfully at each other, murmuring together. Some of the countenances expressed loathing, but more exhibited a surprised contempt. For a confused moment no one seemed to know quite what to do or what answer to make to so bestial a dying request. Danny broke the silence indignantly.

"I promised them their requests would be carefully heeded," he said. "Give him the liquor."

Somebody passed up a flask. Charlie raised it as high as he could, but was prevented by the rope from getting it quite to his lips.

"You —," he yelled at the man who

"Men," Danny's voice rang out, clear and menacing, "do your duty!"

held the rope, "slack off that rope and let a man take a parting drink, can't you?"

Amid a dead silence the rope was slackened away. Charlie took a long drink, then hurled the half emptied flask far out into the crowd.

To a question Crawford shook his head.

"I hope God Almighty will strike every one of you with forked lightning and that I shall meet you all in the lowest pit of hell," he snarled.

Morton kept a stubborn and rather dignified silence. Catilla alternately defied and wept. Jules answered Danny's question:

"Sure thing! Pull off my boots for me. I don't want it to get back to my old mother that I died with my boots on."

In silence and gravity this ridiculous request was complied with. The crowd, very attentive, heaved and stirred. The desperadoes, shouldering their way here and there, were finding each other out, were gathering in little groups.

"They'll try a rescue!" whispered the man next to me.

"Men," Danny's voice rang out, clear and menacing, "do your duty!"

At the words across the silence the click of gunlocks was heard as the vigilantes leveled their weapons at the crowd. From my position near the condemned man I could see the shuffling components of the mob freeze to immobility before the menace of those barrels. At the same instant the man who had been appointed executioner jerked the box from beneath Catilla's feet.

"There goes one!" muttered Charlie.

"I hope forked lightning will strike every straggler!" yelled Crawford. His speech was abruptly cut short as the box spun from under his feet.

"Kick away, old fellow!" said Scarface Charlie. "Me next! I'll be with you in a minute! Every man for his principles! Hurrah for crime! Let her rip!" And without waiting for the executioner he himself kicked the support away.

Morton died without a sign. Catilla at the last suddenly calmed and met his fate bravely.

Before the full resulting from the execution and the threat of the presented weapons could break Danny Randall spoke up.

"Gentlemen," he called clearly, "the roster of the vigilantes is open! Call of you as please to join the association for the preservation of decency, law and order in this camp can now do so!"

The guard lowered their arms and moved to one side. The crowd swept forward. In the cabin the applicants were admitted a few at a time. Before noon we had 400 men on our rolls.

Some of the bolder roughs vented a few threats, but were speedily overawed. The community had found itself and was no longer afraid.

No sooner had this radical cleanup of the body politic been consummated than the rains began. That means little to any but a Californian. To him it means everything. We were quite new to the climate and the conditions, so that the whole thing was a great surprise.

For four days it rained steadily. The morning of the fifth day broke dazlingly clear. The sky looked burnished as a blue jewel; the sunlight glittered like shimmering metal; distant objects stood out plain out, without atmosphere. For the first time we felt encouraged to dare that awful mud and so sloped over to town.

We found the place fairly drowned out. No one in his first year thought of building for the weather. Barnes' hotel, the Empire and the Bella Union had come through without shipping a drop, for they had been erected by men with experience in the California climate, but almost everybody else had been leaked upon a plenty. And the deep dust of the travel worn overland road had turned into a morass beyond belief or description.

Our first intimation of a definite seasonal change came from our old friend Danny Randall, who hailed us at once when he saw us picking our way gingerly along the edge of the street. In answer to his summons we entered the Bella Union.

"I hope you boys weren't quite drowned out," he greeted us. "You don't look particularly careworn."

We exchanged the appropriate comments; then Danny came at once to business.

"Now I'm going to pay off you three boys," he told the express messengers, "and I want to know what you want. I can give you the dust, or I can give you an order on a San Francisco firm, just as you choose."

"Express business busted?" asked Johnny.

"It's quit for the season," Danny Randall told him, "like everything else. In two weeks at most there won't be a score of men left in Italian Bar." He observed our astonished incredulity, smiled and continued: "You boys came from the east, where it rains and gets over it. But out here it doesn't get over it. Have you been down to look at the river? No? Well, you'd better take a look. There'll be no more bar mining done there for awhile. And what's a mining camp without mining? Go talk to the men of '88. They'll tell you. The season is over, boys, until next spring, and you may just as well make up your minds to hike out now as later. What are you laughing at?" he asked Johnny.

"I was just thinking of our big vigilante organization," he chuckled.

"I suppose it's true that mighty few of the same lot will ever get back to Italian Bar," agreed Danny, "but it's a good thing for whatever community they may hit next year."

Johnny and Old elected to take their wages in dust. Cat decided on the order against the San Francisco firm. Then we wandered down to where we could overlook the bar itself.

The entire bed of the river was filled from rim to rim with a rolling brown flood. The bars, sand spits, gravel banks had all disappeared. Whole trees bobbed and sank and raised skeleton arms or tangled roots as they were swept along by the current or caught back by the eddies, and underneath the roar of the waters we heard the dull rumbling and crunching of boulders rolled beneath the flood. A crowd of men was watching in idle curiosity. We learned that all the cradles and most of the tools had been lost and heard rumors of cabins or camps located too low having been swept away.

That evening we held a very serious discussion of our prospects and plans. Yank announced himself as fit to travel and ready to do so, provided he could have a horse. The express messengers were out of a job. I had lost all my tools and was heartily tired of gold washing, even had conditions permitted me to continue. Beside which we were all feeling quite rich and prosperous. We had not made enormous fortunes, as we had confidently anticipated when we left New York, but we were all possessed of good sums of money. Yank had the least, owing to the fact that he had been robbed of his Porcupine river product and had been compelled for nearly three months to lie idle, but even he could count on a thousand dollars or so sent out from Hangman's Gulch. I had the most, for my digger had paid me better than had Johnny's express riding. But much of my share belonged of right to Talbot Ward.

Having once made up our minds to leave, we could not go too soon. A revolution seized us. In two days the high winds that immediately sprang up from the west had dried the surface moisture. We said goodbye to all our friends—Danny Randall, Dr. Rankin, Barnes and the few miners with whom we had become intimate. Danny was even then himself preparing to return to Sonoma as soon as the road should be open to wagons. Dr. Rankin intended to accompany him, ostensibly because he saw a fine professional opening at Sonoma, in reality because in his shy, hidden fashion he loved Danny.

We made our way out of the hills without adventure worth noting. The road was muddy and a good deal washed—in fact, we had occasionally to do considerable maneuvering to find a way at all around the handslides from the hills above.

One afternoon we turned off on a trail known to Old and rode a few miles to where the Pine family had made its farm. We found the old man and his tall sons inhabiting a large two roomed cabin situated on a flat. They had already surrounded a field with a fence made of split pickets and rails and were working away with the tireless energy of the born axmen at inclosing still more. Their horses had been turned into plowing, and from somewhere or other they had procured a cock and a dozen hens.

For a brief period Yank and I quite envied the lot of these pioneers who had a settled stake in the country.

"I wish I could go in for this sort of thing," said Yank.

"Why don't you?" urged old man Pine. "There's a flat just above us."

"How did you get hold of this land?" I inquired curiously.

"Just took it."

"Doesn't it belong to anybody?"

"It's part of one of these big Greaser ranches," said Pine impatiently. "I made a good try to get to the bottom of it. One fellow says he owns it and will sell; then comes another that says he owns it and won't sell, and so on. They don't now use this country, except a few cattle comes through once in awhile. I got tired of monkeying with them, and I came out here and squatted. If I owe anybody anything they got to show me who it is. I don't believe none of them knows themselves who it really belongs to."

"I'd hate to put a lot of work into a place and then have to move out," said I doubtfully.

"I'd like to see anybody move me out!" observed old man Pine grimly.

MANY DESERTERS FROM GERMAN ARMY

foreigners spread all over the country, many of them of the worst or at least of the most doubtful character?

Infectious disease repeatedly has been introduced. The great exodus of Belgians brought typhus and dysentery; Austro-Hungarian emigrants from Galicia, on their way to join relatives in America, and suspected smugglers from that province, brought smallpox; escaped prisoners-of-war from infected German camps and others occasionally introduced diseases like spotted fever and meningitis. In each case the disease was quickly checked.

Now, however, smallpox has a real hold in parts of Germany as well as in countries farther east, and it is pointed out how easily this and other scourges may be brought across the frontier.

The Prime Minister, Cort van der Linden, announced a few days ago that the increased influx, and the bodily condition of persons entering the country, had necessitated more drastic sanitary measures. Barracks are to be erected at five different points of the frontier, where all Germans entering the country, of whom the great majority are deserters, will be disinfected, while a camp is to be erected for the accommodation of dangerous or undesirable elements among deserters. As regards the national danger, the Minister for War, Major-General N. Bosboom, endeavored to reassure public opinion in parliament a few days ago, by declaring that, if Holland became involved in the war, it would be made evident that the government was far more conversant with the position as regards foreigners, and had taken far more adequate precautionary measures, than most people thought.

SPY SUSPECT TAKEN AT FORT SHERIDAN

Man Arrested Carrying Complete Bomb Outfit.

Fort Sheridan, Ill., June 29.—A suspected German spy, who carried a suitcase containing a bomb, several sticks of dynamite, a quantity of gun cotton and fifty feet of fuses, was arrested near the powder magazine at Fort Sheridan. He was discovered by a sentry of the Ohio engineers who are on guard duty at the post.

The arrest of the suspected German agent uncovered a spy plot upon which the secret service agents of Hinton G. Clabaugh's office have been working for a month. Almost a dozen other persons are believed to be implicated in a plot to destroy Fort Sheridan. A bomb exploding in the powder magazine, it is averred, would have menaced the lives of the whole 5,000 training camp students. It is situated exactly midway between the brick barracks of the Michigan-Wisconsin men, and the wooden cantonments in which are quartered 2,500 men from Illinois.

That the plot had been known and the plotters identified and watched by the secret service agents for a month is the information revealed following the arrest.

This Case Has a Hint for Many Telegraph Readers

This Dixon woman has used Doan's Kidney Pills

She has found them as representative.

She wishes her neighbors to know She publicly recommends them.

No need to look further for a tested kidney remedy.

The proof of merit is here and can be investigated.

Profit by the statement of Mrs. J. L. Fine of 1006 Peoria Ave. She gave the following statement in January, 1915: "I have suffered for a number of years with kidney trouble. My back has sometimes ached and pained so badly I have had to stay in bed and have hardly been able to turn over. I have had headaches and dizzy spells and black specks have appeared before me. My wrists and ankles have been swollen. When I have had one of these attacks, I have bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Prescott & Schildberg's Drug Store. They have always helped me. I have relied on Doan's Kidney Pills for the last fifteen years and they have never failed to give satisfaction."

On April 30, 1917, Mrs. Fine said: "I never use Doan's Kidney Pills but what they help me. Whenever my kidney need regulating, Doan's are what I take."

the bed a man with closely cropped hair. He had partly disrobed, revealing the fact that his entire costume was of the kind meant for the feminine sex, the makeup being complete from the inside out. The government men turned the man over to the police. Prior to going to the station Ostenkotter would not tell his name or identity. He said he was engaged in the show business and was making a tour for the selection of chorus girls and booking engagements.

Once Sattioned Here

Ostenkotter was located in Freeport for a short time and was recognized on arriving at the police station. He was told of his identity and then he gave another story, saying he came here from Shannon on an evening train and went to the rear of the Senate hotel, where he put on the woman's apparel. He stated that he intended to go to Lena, Ill., to visit and play a joke on his friend, Father Heckinger. Ostenkotter was detained at the jail over night, but it is not likely civil action will be taken, but that his case will be turned over to Bishop Muldoon for final disposition.

Ostenkotter stated that he came into possession of the clothing when he attended college and took part in plays. His grip also contained cosmetics of various kinds and he was fully equipped to carry out his part to the letter. There was also a pair of high-heeled white shoes in his grip which he had failed to put on and which might have assisted materially in covering up his identity. There was in his grip a picture taken when he had his makeup on. It was in the costume of a chorus girl and it was a hard matter to determine whether or not he was a male or female in the picture.

COAL PRICE CUT, MILLIONS SAVED

Slash of $1 and $1.50 at Mines Made at Washington.

LANE PRAISES QUICK ACTION

Consumers Will Reap Benefit of Millions of Dollars—Price Cut Begins July 1st—One of Great Problems Confronting Nation Is Solved by Conferees.

Washington, June 29.—An immediate general reduction of $1 to $1.50 a ton in the price of coal at the mine was agreed upon here by representatives of the operators. This reduction is expected to be followed by still further decreases in price after investigation of the cost of mining coal and it is probable that the government will be given a still lower price than that to the general public. Hundreds of millions of dollars will be saved to the American people through this decision. The agreement is understood to affect bituminous coal only.

The operators agreed to the immediate reduction at a meeting here after adopting a resolution by which coal prices would be fixed with the aid and approval of the secretary of the interior, the federal trade commission and the committee on coal production of the national defense council.

About 600,000,000 tons of coal were mined in this country last year and Secretary Lane, who has earnestly urged a reduction, believes that the saving to the American people will be enormous.

Lane Expresses Appreciation.

After hearing the operators' action Mr. Lane wrote the following letter to F. S. Peabody of Chicago, chairman of the coal production committee, who has been in constant conference with the operators:

"I have just learned of the action of the coal mine operators and I wish to express my appreciation of the generous, prompt and patriotic manner in which they have acted. They have dealt with the situation in the way that I had hoped they would—as large men dealing with a large question. They manifestly see that this is no time in which to consider primarily the opportunities which the war gives for personal aggrandizement. We must gain for each by gaining for all. The country is in a mood for sacrifice. It is intent upon the success of the war and is willing to do everything needed to give assurance to the world against a repetition of this awful condition.

"Will you not be good enough to express to the coal men my appreciation of the spirit they have shown in determining that their prices shall be reduced so that the industries of the country may not be hampered and that the people may not feel their spirit is broken down by the thought that this is to be a war for individual advantage instead of self protection? I felt from the moment of my talk to them that no body of men more truly represented the high purpose to yield personal desire for general good than did they. Now I trust that we shall immediately put into concrete form the spirit of your resolution."

Agree to the Resolution.

The resolution giving "assent" to fixing of maximum prices was reported by Commissioner Fort from a special committee. He said he believed the resolution was entirely safe for the conference to adopt and that any responsibility as to the legality of the fixing of the prices was put on the government, and not on the operators, under the terms of the resolution.

Cut Price to Take Effect July 1.

The second resolution directing the conference committee to proceed immediately to fix a tentative price without waiting for ascertainment of costs, was adopted virtually unanimously. It authorized the secretary of the interior, the federal trade commission and the defense council committee on coal production "to forthwith issue a statement fixing a tentative maximum price, which, in their judgment, is fair and reasonable as applied to the several coal districts, at which coal shall be sold from and after the 1st day of July and until the accurate costs have been ascertained and a fair and reasonable price based thereon fixed by said government."

TRACE FREIGHT CAR FOR BOY

C. M. & St. P. Men Seek 590099—Wisconsin Lad Seen Near It.

Superior, Wis., June 29.—The location of car No. 590099 of the Chicago-Milwaukee & So. Paul Ry. failed to solve the mystery of the disappearance of five year old William McLean, missing since Friday of last week, when he was last seen playing about the pier at which the car was being loaded with flaxseed meal for Bensenville, Ind.

The water near the pier has been dragged vainly several times and now the boy's father, Captain W. S. McLean, for many years a sailor on the lakes, had pinned his hopes on finding him in the car. Tracers had been sent out to points along the line, taking parlors at 1 o'clock this afternoon, brought in a verdict that Miss Alice Loy died of burns caused by a fire which was accidentally started in her clothing.
